The Little Shop that Offers Big Savings

DWD Motorcycle Service opened July 2000. The shop located at 8302 W. Lisbon Avenue in Milwaukee, is owned and operated by Mike Coon. DWD is open April through October, from 9 am until 7 pm weekdays, 9 am until 4 on Saturdays. During the winter months, the shop is open Monday through Friday 10-6.

Specializing in Harley-Davidson Motorcycles, DWD is strictly service and repairs; no bike sales, no part sales, no do-dahs.

Motorcycling should be fun, but Mike observed that I can also be frustrating and confusing for riders when the time comes for normal routine maintenance, in the event of a break down, or when deciding what to do to increase performance. So evolved the realization that bikers need a place to go to get what they need - from general information about motorcycles to major performance work. "Riders need a place where they can address their concerns, have their questions answered correctly, and be sold what they need - not what a salesman thinks they need" says Mike. "They need a place where they can get their bikes in and out and still have money left."

Fast service and saving riders money doesn't mean any scrimping on the quality of service these guys offer. Mike knows the product and has the training, experience, and equipment to perform every aspect of maintenance from changing a bulb to complete engine rebuilding and frame replacement. They also know that for riders, the bike is family, and at DWD every rider and bike is treated like family.

Mike has 11 years experience as a full time service technician and over 30 years experience with motorcycles. He was rated by Harley-Davidson service school as a Master of Harley-Davidson Technologies, the highest rating in the Harley Davidson PHD service program.

If you've been waiting to get your bike serviced, now's the time to give Mike a call at 414-445-7402. They're DWD, and once you've talked to them, you might be too.

Weird News:

Columbian police impound donkey as "other vehicle" in accident KTRK- TV reported that police in Bogota, Columbia impounded a donkey named Pacho after it was involved in a motorcycle crash that caused serious injuries to the cyclist.

"When there are road accidents and serious injuries, the vehicles involved are always impounded," said Diana Rojas, spokeswoman for the Arauca city police department.

"We had to impound both the donkey and the motorcycle and put them at the disposal of investigators so they can decide what to do with them and whether to release them." Pacho's owner, Nelson Gonzalez, said no one should pin the blame on the donkey for Sunday's crash.

"Neither the donkey nor I were responsible because I was in front and the motorcyclist saw me" before crashing, Gonzalez said. AIM-NCOM
