

Westboro Church Protesters

By: Skypilot

Recently the Supreme Court made a ruling stating these people had the right to protest at fallen HEROES funerals (Which I do not agree with). I'll be the first to say after serving this nation for twenty-one years people have the right to do certain things, but there is a place and a time for it. At the funeral of one of America's Fallen Heroes is certainly not the time nor the place to become ass holes and do this.

The Supreme Court could have said yes you have the right but you have to be at least a third of a mile from the site.

Recently not to far from my home a family (Mennonite) farm house caught fire and seven young innocent children lost their lives in this devastating fire. Only one of the eight children lived. The funeral is this Wednesday and you guessed it these idiots are going to be there to protest the funeral.

They say it is because their god is punishing Pennsylvania because a father of a Marine (lost five years ago) tried to sue them and that the father of the children probably abused these children. They have no legal facts proving this, but this is what they are assuming. Let me tell you these people are some SICK ASS HOLES and deserve to burn in hell. Makes you think what them judges are thinking now after this has happen. You think they may be thinking they made a mistake?

What got me is their spokeswomen was on the local news here stating the father of this young Marine that sued their church "Tuff luck you have to suck it up and something about the Marine was a homo". Like the father stated the Supreme Court ruling is just going to bring Blood Shed at future funerals.

Being a father of a young man serving his country and I pray to GOD he returns safely, if something would happen and they protested his or one of his Team members funeral, I would do some serious ass kicking.

These people our sick saying their god is telling them to do this. My GOD sure ain't like that, he is a loving and forgiving God, not one who punishes fallen soldiers who are protecting not only America's freedom, but other countries as well.

Years ago our club help block one of these protest at the funeral of a highly decorated Marine Pilot and one of the local news channel who knew me ask if they could get my opinion on this and I stated the following. " my opinion on this after serving this great nation of ours is yes anyone has the right to protest, but one must use common sense in doing so and pick the time and place to do so and here at this highly Decorated Marine Pilot is not the time nor the place. As much as I would have liked to have crossed the street and set these people right (an attitude adjustment) I refrained from doing so, because it would have just brought me down to their level". I ask all those out there that believe in a just God say a prayer for this family who have lost their children and I know these little Angels have been excepted into the lords arms already.

I would like my God to intervene on behalf of these parents somehow so their children can be laid to rest. I know this is a subject like politics that people should not discuss, but as a believer in the Almighty I had to say something. May God have Mercy on The Westboro Church. There is one last thing I'd like to say and that is "YOU CAN'T FIX STUPID".

Until the next issue again thank you to all our loyal readers out there who pick up are paper and read it. Also God Bless Preacher and Lorie for putting in so much hard work into this paper each month, I love you both.

Be safe out there and may the Great Eagle guide your path and the Great Wolf watch your back. Love to all ~ Skypilot
