

The Horse Rally

There is a place that's been created on the bluffs of the Mighty Mississippi that has been created especially for bikers. A place that has beautiful scenery, fresh air and some of the amenities of home. The place I refer is the 118 acres Iron Horse Bike & Music Festival in Sabula, IA.

Holding at least three rallies a year the , the creator of this festival grounds made in my mind a relaxing and reasonable place to ride to when you need to get away, but don't have a lot of time to travel. Only being a few hours from Chicago and the Twin Cities makes for a convenient destination.

Since it's conception there has been a mud bog added with races, showers and flush toilets for your convenience. Beer, soda, ice and food are available on the grounds, with plenty of restaurants within 5 miles in Sabula, IA and Savanna, IL across the river. Entertainment is abound at the rally starting around 3pm and running past midnight. This past Memorial weekend I went to see Foghat (who still puts on a great) along with some very good local talent. For those that know my drinking habits know I seldom indulge, but that night I slept under my bike, under the stars. Been a long time!

All in all, even though I have mentioned this event in past issues, I feel it is one of the most affordable events that gives back huge satisfaction for the money. I guarantee you will think the same. Check out their site thehorserrally.com for more info. The last event of the year will be Sept 4-7th. See you there.
