Here we are, Memorial weekend already. What are you doing on Monday? I hope you will take a little time to remember those that gave so much, so we could live in the best country in the world. I know Lorie and I will be at a ceremony somewhere. But then let the party begin, with the cookouts, friends all around you and a day off work, (Paid for most of you). Man I love this country.....

I have noticed that we are getting some extra miles on this year than in the past due to the nice weather. But the down side to this is that we lose more riders due to accidents and unaware drivers. May was motorcycle awareness month, so I bet you seen all those signs in yards, billboards along the highway and even place mats on the table of your favorite diner. We who are fighting for freedom of the road for bikers rights are also heavily and more importantly fighting for education of non riders, to make sure they see us. This is probably the best way to stay away from the statistic column. If you see a function sponsored by or supported by an ABATE of Wisconsin region, give a thought to stop in and support it. That stop may just save you in the future. You never know.

I do have to let you know that I have not been out as much as I like, but I have hanging around the house playing in the yard, getting it ready for my birthday bash. June 28-July 1st FRP headquarters. I have mentioned before that anyone is welcome, but a call ahead would be appreciated for me to get a ball park head count. So far we are going on a couple cruises (to be determined by whoever is here) and headed to a veterans fund-raiser at Madison International Speedway for Badger Honor Flight www.badgerhonorflight.org on Friday June 29th. Other than that I will be having a bike night here on Thursday for whoever is so inclined to attend. Campfire, some chow and a beverage to wash it down. For those that know me, I may throw in a surprise or two. He-he never know.

Other event I am planning on is Midwestfest midwestfest2012.com at the Sunny view Expo Grounds in Oshkosh June 15 & 16th.. The weekend of the 9th is really full, but to let you in on a little secret, when someone calls or e-mails me for an event to be placed in the paper, a real good way to get in is to ask me for suggestions and be sincere. I get many requests to place a certain event in followed by, "if you can put an ad in that would be great, after all it is for charity." News flash, just about every event I place on the calendar is for some kind of charity, but only a few of the calls I get an over tone of sincerity to them. This included "Ridin' for a Heart" in Waupaca, Wi. If you want to be left out of the Free Riders Press, let me find out you're just using a group to raise some personal funds. The number one way to be excluded and shot down is to use the words "Veterans" in the title. I will let you know that I have a zero tolerance for bullshit and deception in my rag. I will always ask around about you and your charity to see what kind of response I get. Advice: Be up front, honest with me and passionate and you will have my full attention and support.

And they lived happily ever after. The end

Meet this months Next Generation Rider. Brenden who's sitting on Grandpas Black Limited Edition Ultra Classic.

"Bingo's Downed Biker Fund"

If you have a Brother or Sister down and would like to get them the Free Riders

Press, NO PROBLEM, be glad to do it but it does cost money. A lot of people help out by donating some coin. We here will do what we can, but with everybody giving what they can, we will make it go a long way. We all know somebody that's down, and anything would be greatly appreciated.
