The Horse is unique in a lot of ways. It's the only piece of property on the Iowa side of that area on the bluffs that will be open to the public for camping with such a breathtaking view.

Memorial Day is just the beginning and Gendreau has given out lots of free admittance coupons to patrons of The Iron Horse. He wants people to come check out the dream in the works. "We'll be ready and up in running in time for Memorial Day but we won't be finished until the Grand Opening July 14, 15 and 16. It's kind of an open house to check it out and enjoy the riding country during the day and hear first class music at night on a concert stage with a real sound system and real lights. We've kept ticket prices real low for Memorial Day weekend. Names like Rick Derringer and the Georgia Satellites for Memorial Day weekend should prove how serious we are," he says with a hard stare.
