Cover Bike:

You know the way I look at it, sometimes it pays to keep your eyes open and alert to what's around you. Case in point, this '96 super glide. I was on a mini road trip last year when I stopped in the big 'burb of Eagle, WI. Home of multiple bars that seem to take turns being the "bikers' bar." I had just gotten ready to walk into the Knucklehead Pub and Grub when James "JT" & Katy pulled up on this month's cover bike. Even though it was dark, I said to myself, "Oh Ya, I gotta get some pics of this Army theme paint job. So as things go with me, I got hold of him almost a year later at Wisconsin HD during the 11th Annual Ride the Ribbon Ride on Sept 24th.

A little about James. He hangs his hat in Watertown, WI with wife Katy where he is a finish carpenter. James is a Desert Storm Vet (hence the paint scheme on the bike) where he served in the Army's 82nd Airborne between 88-91. He is Commander of VFW Post 2260, and for the last 8 years has been sight-coordinator for the Rock River Hog Chapter "Save the Tits Ride" that happens annually the 4th Saturday of September. www.ridintoacure.com.

The bike was thought out carefully with the thinking of catching certain aspects of JT's military background, along with the POW-MIA emblem which James is a hardcore supporter of since day one. (All of his bikes have had the emblem on them.) After originally wanting a camo paint job, but not able to capture it just right, Shaun at Shark Sign's & Design of Delefield, WI 262-646-4451 called James up and told him to come over to his shop and see what he came up with. James liked what he saw and the rest is history. I asked James about the pin-up style girl on the missile. He told me that the WWII bombers with painted ladies on them were cool and wanted the same thing on the paint job. James did all the work on this bike, with the help of the crew at Wisconsin HD www.wishd.com who gave a hand finding parts for the super glide. I think James has succeeded in having a one of a kind beauty he can be proud as hell of. Let me know, you may have the next riders bike I am looking for!

LAURA THE POTTER

BIKER POTTERY

Every piece is hand thrown on the potters wheel, then hand sculptured pieces added when the pot is half dry. Every piece will be different. All my products are stoneware. They are food safe, can be used in the microwave, dishwasher and the standard oven.

*Pottery is not my hobby...
It's my way of life.
When I grab that glob of earth
And move with the rhythm of the wheel,
My tactile senses come alive
To create an object of beauty and function...
It's the hardest work I've ever loved.
I've been doing this for 14 years now...
I am what I am.
Biker Pottery is a way for me to Express my passion for bikes as well as my Passion for pottery.*
