

What A Month !

By; Skypilot

This has been one heck of a month, it started with me and my wife making trips back and forth to the VA Hospital here in Lebanon, Pa. to Philly, Pa. VA.

After ten years of complaints on her part about taking a few steps and getting what she referred to as leg, hip, lower back and ass burn. They finally decided to run test and found an aneurysm where the veins and arteries split going into each leg also severe blockage of both arteries in both legs. Rushing to Philly, VA hospital to see a vascular surgical team within a day of the Vascular Surgeon at Lebanon VA (who knew it was way over his head) sent her.

Today we went to see a local doctor, whom is supposedly the best in the area and is going to be doing the surgery (which is right around nine hours). I'm asking for a special favor from my readers for prayer for her during all this.

On the 10th of April to my surprise she wanted to get on her bike and ride, so we meet up with friends went out to the local VFW had a great breakfast and proceeded on our ride. Which was just fantastic riding through the Pennsylvania country side and enjoying life to it's fullest. We ended with just over a 100 mile ride and both felt great when we got home. Of course the day before I did about a seventy five mile short ride and an Open House at Iron Valley HD.

The following Thursday a Brother and Sister came up from North Carolina to spent the evening and we all headed out for a weekend of Brother & Sister Hood get together. There is nothing better then being with people you love and enjoy. At our meeting I was 100% voted in as "The National POW ~ MIA Officer" for the Original Vietnam Vets M/C USA. I am so honored all my Brothers have confidence that I can handle this at a National Level ..... and I WILL! We presented the hotel with a POW~MIA Flag earlier that day with a promise from them that every employee when they passed it would remember exactly what it stood for.

We got in the house Sunday around 12:30 p.m. and I finished packing and headed for Fort Bragg to see my Son "THE LT" (serving with the 82nd). His wife and him got married in November and never got a honeymoon so they were going to Jamaica on Wednesday morning and upon their return his Team and him deploy for a long while. Got to their place about 9:30 p.m. Sunday evening. Him and I started putting two weeks of stuff into two days, the 82nd Museum, the Airborne/Special Ops Museum.

Even though the month started out bad it's looking up because it is all in "GODS" hands, but please say a prayer.

Until the next time I set in front of this computer and write may the Great Eagle guide your chosen path, the Great Wolf have your back and The Great Spirit watch over you.

Before I go I have another special request please call your local Congressional Rep at least once a week and your State Senators (1-866-727-4894) so we can get HR 111 Passed this YEAR. Let them know you voted for them it's time to vote for an approval of this Bill.

Thanks for reading, God Bless you all. Remember our Troops deployed throughout the world and those who can't talk, we must do it for them OUR POW~MIA. HOKA HEY.

My Ashes - By Bingo

Don't put my ashes on some shelf - next to some old un-read books -
 Or in a closet on the floor - or in a corner where no one looks -
 And don't scatter the in the wind - or throw them in the sea -
 I'll tell you now where I want my ashes to be:
 Take them to the Biker memorial and just spread them on the ground!
 I'll be there with other bikers and there'll be biker coming around!
 They'll see my name etched in stone that's set in the walkway there -
 And I'll be remembered then - by biker brothers that care!
