

It's About Time

By Skypilot Freelance Writer

Well the government has finally done something RIGHT for the "Vietnam Veteran" can you believe it and it only took thirty-seven years to do it and do it "RIGHT".

By Presidential Proclamation March 29 of each year will hereby be known as "Welcome Home Vietnam Veterans Day" and considering who is President it is a wonder it happen.

Your probably saying "hey be happy you got one", I say this because in February he wanted to pass a bill making Veterans and Active Duty pay for their own health care from wounds received while serving, protecting not only America's interest but other countries as well.

We are finally getting a day of recognition even though we have been saying it to each others for years to one another. Yet their are still Korean Veterans who are having problems getting into the VA Hospital system and our Brothers who pulled Black Operations in places like Laos, Cambodia, Thailand and yes even North Vietnam. They can't get help due to the records showing these operations are blacked out because "WE WERE NOT THERE" (as are some of my records) due to some High Ranking Officer wanting to cover his ass and his retirement benefits.

I remember several debriefings after explaining where My Team and I went and damage we caused, was told by some Full Bird Colonel or One Star General telling me no Sergeant your wrong you were not there. Which as everyone knows The CIA told them to tell us what we did because Shit flows down hill. Let's face it Vietnam was more run by the CIA then the American soldier.

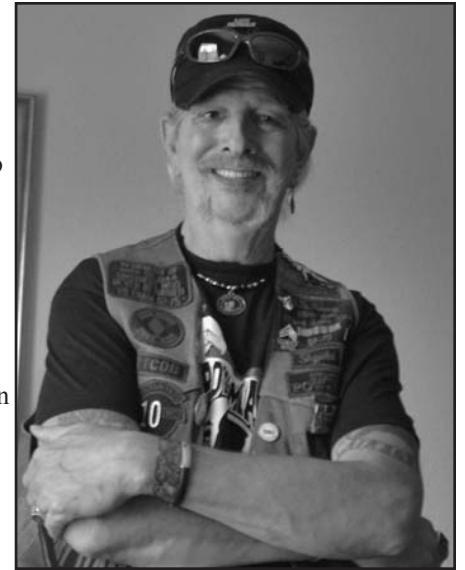

I give thanks to the NASCAR family, because the race they just had in Alabama was called "The Welcome Home Vietnam Vets" race, with all sorts of gala to go with it. Thank you NASCAR officials, drivers and the people of Alabama for Welcoming us Home.

To all Those Brothers and Sisters I haven't met a big "WELCOME HOME BROTHERS & SISTERS AND THANK YOU"!

It's well into riding season so please everybody be careful out there, as you know the cages are not watching for us. May the Great Eagle be with you as you ride and the Great Wolf Guard you from danger.

Until next we meet in the news "KEEP ON TRIKEN". Love you all and as always as they say in CHEROKEE "Wahdo" (Thank You) for reading "The Free Riders Press" and so you don't miss a copy get a subscription and have it mailed right to your home. That way you don't miss anything from your favorite writers.
