So how's everybody taking the temperature shift. I don't really like it, but this has been a really weird summer. I for one didn't get much time in the saddle since August, but I guess there's always next year, right?

I was digging through some event calendars for events and there just isn't anything going on. If you're not into attending dealer events I guess we're all going to do nothing till January. Yep we're all gonna sit on the couch, watch soap operas and eat bon bons. Yep, that's the plan. Get fat and depressed. Complain about being bored as hell because of the drops in degrees. Well I can tell ya this isn't the crowd I run with at all. We know how to make our own party right in the cool fall nights. Can anyone say bon fire? I think we will be having a couple in the next few weeks. Who knows, may even have some adult beverages to boot. Ho about grabbing the shotgun and the bowling pins. Yep now there's a combination. Ad alcohol and the party really ignites. But if none of that works till January we can look forward to all the shows and swaps.

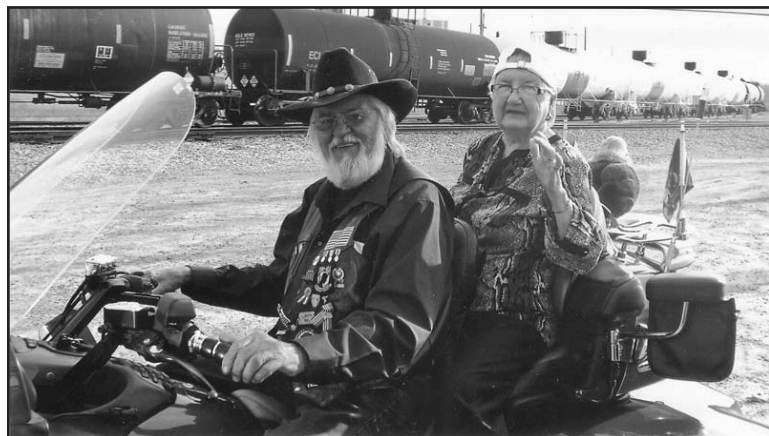

I do want to mention a couple things. For those of you that are attending the walneckswaps.com, Buzz has a magazine out that is hitting the motorcycle community hard again. He always has good stuff to read and checkout, sorta like the FRP, LOL. Seriously check it out when you get a chance. It's pretty cool.

We lost another brother this month. Jim "Squirrel" Engle. See Brothers Lost section for a benefit to help cover funeral costs. Hopefully I will see you there.

I do need to mention that if you haven't seen me around much, it's not your imagination. I have been busy starting a new business hauling for the company I work for. I needed to start an LLC called Free Rider Xpress. Do you like the name? Hell everyone for 12 years has called my paper that, so I figure I might as well go with it for hauling. So I went all in and bought a truck, am looking for a trailer (flatbed-30 footer if anyone has one laying around that want to help the old Preacher out a bit) so I can haul all kinds of product. Hopefully get into doing some bike hauls to different events around the country. Who know maybe 50 isn't too late to start seeing the world huh. So if you need anything moved give me a shout.

With all that said, I'm outta here. Take care and see you again for the Dec-Jan 2015 issue.

Meet This Month's shall we say Generational Rider.
This may not be a next generation rider, but at 98 she was a willing rider. Angie Thurber is riding on Dave Hahns trike. She wants to know when the next ride is.

If you have a picture of your Next Generation Rider, feel free to send it in to me. Who knows it just might kick start a Hollywood career for them. Send those pic's to preacher@freeriderspress.us or by snail mail to PO Box 1126 Wautoma, WI 54982

Can't think of anything to put in this spot. Go figure.

Letter to the Editor.
Regarding: The Pickle Factory at Midnight

What a great account of a memorable slice of a motorcycle ride! I felt like I was there! More so, meeting the guy who wrote this story puts a personal touch to it. Thanks Free Riders Press.
 PS; No, Kenn didn't buy me a beer to have me write this, I'm buying one for him next time he comes in to Richard's Bar in Chicago.

I had the honor of performing my first and more than likely last wedding for Pete & Jessi. They met through the paper as penpals and eventually grew with each other to finally get married August 9th, 2014. I don't know who was more nervous, but we all got through just fine. So to finish what I forgot to mention at the wedding after the vows. May I present to you Mr. & Mrs. Peter Henkle. Thanks for the honor you two.

Brother Lost:

A brother Jim "Squirrel" Engle I have known since my club days has passed away from what I understand is Hep C. Even though we haven't been in touch a whole lot in the past 10 years, he was one of the brothers that gave me grief (LOL) as a prospect and I respect him for that. There is a benefit for him October 18th 1-7pm at the Wildhorse saloon in Kelner, WI. This will include a silent auction to help pay for funeral expenses. I know he touched a lot of people in his time and for that he will be missed. Rest in Peace my friend.

" Bingo's Downed Biker Fund"

If you have a Brother or Sister down and would like to get them the Free Riders Press, NO PROBLEM, be glad to do it but it does cost money. A lot of people help out by donating some coin. We here will do what we can, but with everybody giving what they can, we will make it go a long way.

We all know somebody that's down, and anything would be greatly appreciated.
